Please Welcome Lia Acevedo to TeamPAR!

Lia joined our team in February and fits in famously. She is a wizard preparing presentations and is extremely creative and personable. Following the COVID-19 outbreak, we dubbed her our in-house "Chief Happiness Officer," as she sends the team daily inspirational emails to boost our spirits! Lia's focus within the team is supporting Alexa and Karen with PARsolutions design projects, as well as assisting with sales. Please reach out to Lia to introduce yourself. We're sure you'll agree that she will be a great asset when you partner with TeamPAR on your next project.

Preparing for our FOREVER "New Normal"

Re-entry and re-imagining a fundamentally different workplace.

Do you remember when our biggest fear in April was "Tax Day?" We are one month into the Coronavirus pandemic, and collectively, we have embarked on a new way of being. Chatter has started suggesting that perhaps we will be opening business again "soon." But honestly, what does that mean? When we do venture back into our offices and schools, what will our "new normal" look like?

For some of our ideas for implementing in your new office environment, visit my most recent blog post:

In the News

Our new normal requires a lot of learning and reprogramming (because old habits die hard!) Here are some recent blog posts and a video that we have found useful as we begin to acclimate to our new normal:

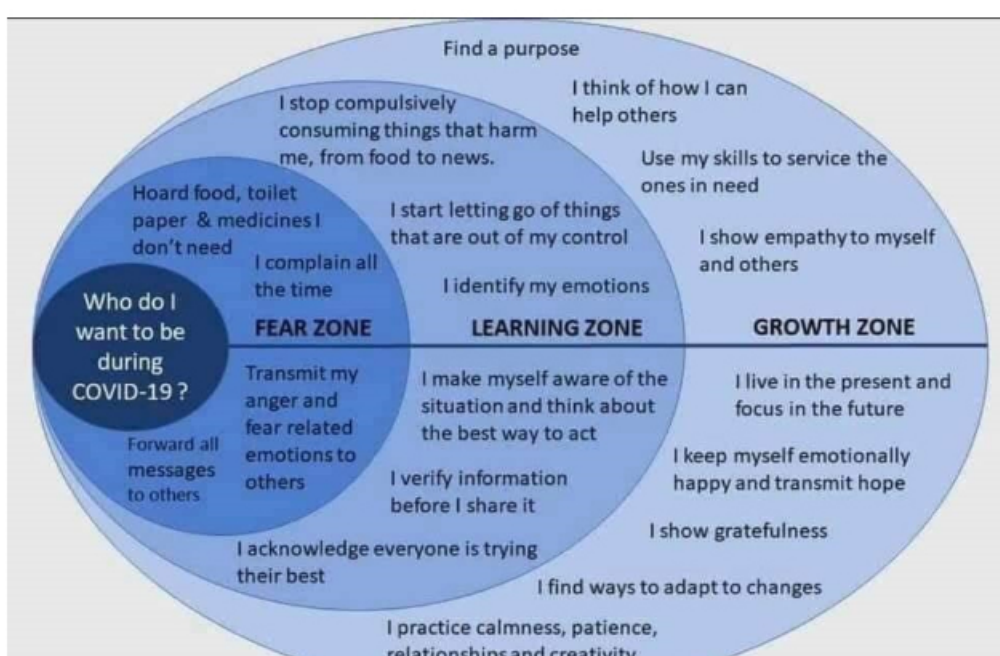

Larry Shagawat, TeamPAR's Wolf Gordon Sales Representative, created the video you'll see below on the benefits of Scuffmaster Paint. He has put social distancing to good use. His video is both humorous and informational. Well done, Larry!
